PEKING HAS PLAN TO FUND DEBTS, AND TO PAY JAPAN

Wu Insists Upon Discharge Of Tokio Obligation

RAILWAY SCHEME

New Minister Promises To Produce Thirty Million Extra

BY JOSEF W. HALL

Staff Correspondent the China Press

Peking, May 31.—The new financial policy of the Chinese Government was decided upon at an informal conference held in the home of Finance Minister Tung Kang in the South City last night, at which Minister of Communications Kao En-hung and other persons responsible for the carrying out of General Wu Pei-fu's policies participated. The plan as drawn up will be submitted at the Cabinet meeting today for discussion, which is expected to be friendly, inasmuch as even old officials like the temporary Premier, Chow Tze-chi, are falling in line with the seemingly inevitable new order of things.

The general lines of the scheme are the revival of Chinese Government credit by the funding of all loan obligations and the pruning of administrative expenses to meet a budget modeled as nearly as possible upon that of the first year of the Republic. It is hoped that the saving in interest effected by the funding of loans will also be a considerable factor in placing the country again on a sound financial basis.

It is estimated that the enormous sum of four hundred million dollars silver will be required for the funding of the loans. This total is composed of the following sums: for Japanese loans, one hundred and eighty million dollars, for American and European loans eighty million dollars, for domestic issues two hundred and forty million dollars.

TO PAY JAPAN

The most remarkable feature of this scheme is that it provides for the complete payment of the Japanese Nishihara obligations and their abolition is a possible leverage upon China in the hands of Japan. The influence of General Wu Pei-fu is here seen. He insists upon a clean sweep of these debts through their frank recognition and funding.

Many details of the scheme remain to be considered, although some of the most obvious difficulties received full discussion last night. In harmony with the policy of the new Finance Minister the public will be kept in knowledge of all developments. Mr. Tung Kang, who received visitors in his home in the South City at seven o'clock this morning, stated that several months would be required to develop this scheme.

"I am not in favor of loans," said Mr. Tung Kang, "and I believe that a great majority of them in the past have been made for the benefit of the borrowing officials rather than to meet the exigency of the country. However, what we now propose is not a loan to be spent upon unproductive administrative expenses or even upon construction projects but rather a funding of the present obligations against the Government both foreign and domestic, which have been contracted in such an irresponsible manner as to greatly impair the standing of the nation. And we hope, as well, to effect a great saving in interest."

I was told elsewhere that the anticipated saving in interest was something like twenty-six million dollars per year.

TUNG'S FIRST JOB

"The first problem," said Mr Tung Kang, who proceeded to his office at eight, "is to eradicate corrupt influences in the Ministry of Finance and its many subsidiary bureaus, and fill the financial and tax collection posts in Peking and throughout the provinces with men of integrity. This is no quick and easy task. Having attained something toward its accomplishment we will then be in a position to go ahead with our scheme toward the reorganisation of national finances."

Since all of the obligations to be covered by the funding plan, with the exception of the Nishihara loans, and in a sense the British Marconi loan, are already covered by securities and provided with amortising revenues, it is not anticipated that the floating of the funding loan will require further

Empress Brings Big Mail; Lincoln Is Due This Morning

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia will sail for Manila and Hongkong at noon today, and the tender with outgoing passengers and baggage will leave the Customs jetty at 9.30 o'clock.

Following the Empress, the President Lincoln, formerly Hoosier State, of the Pacific Mail is due to arrive in Shanghai from San Francisco, Honolulu and Japan ports about 7.30 o'clock this morning and will dock at the China Merchants' Central Wharf. The liner brings a small mail and a full passenger list.

Mails for America will be dispatched on the President Grant, formerly Pine Tree State, of the Admiral Line early Monday. Ordinary matter will close at the American Post Office at 6 p.m. tomorrow, and registered at the same hour this evening.

The President Grant is to dock at the China Merchants' Lower Wharf from Hongkong about 7 o'clock this evening, and will sail for Seattle by way of Kobe and Yokohama at daylight Monday. It is due to arrive in Seattle on June 20.

The Shinyo Maru of the T.K.K. which arrived at Woosung yesterday morning, sailed for San Francisco last evening.

The China Mail liner Nan'king arrived off Woosung yesterday.

The outgoing passenger tender will leave the Customs jetty at 4.30 o'clock.

The Nanking is due to arrive in San Francisco on June 24.

Vienna To Have New Trade Journal

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 2.—With a view to promoting the rehabilitation of European trade, a new periodical is shortly being published in Vienna in English, under British auspices, entitled European Commercial Paper. It will be supported by most of the European Governments, who will specially facilitate the collection of authoritative news. The journal will not conduct propaganda, being solely concerned with giving businessmen facts and figures.

RECONQUEST OF IRELAND NOW LOOMS IN BRITAIN

Gloomy Prospect Hangs Over Irish Negotiations

CABINET BALKS

Proposed Constitution Goes Beyond Treaty

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 2.—A feeling that the Government may suddenly be faced with the calamitous prospect of the reconquest of Ireland hangs over the Irish negotiations. Mr. Michael Collin's explanations regarding the Coalition with Mr. de Valera only partially allayed the Government's fears that the agreement threatens the whole basis of the Treaty to the contrary. The Cabinet is in no wise satisfied with the draft of the Free State Constitution which was submitted yesterday and which would confer rights and powers far beyond those contemplated in the Treaty.

Sir James Craig adheres to his refusal to meet the Southerners and yesterday conferred with members of the Cabinet after which the Premier suddenly cancelled his holiday in Criccieth. A day of anxiety closed with a Cabinet meeting at which the Earl of Cavan, Chief of the General Staff, was present to discuss measures to meet the menacing situation on the Ulster frontier and also the steps to be taken in the event of the Treaty being wrecked.

London, June 1.—There was much revolver shooting in the Peter's Hill district of Belfast this afternoon. Several were injured and taken to hospital. Gunmen stopped a motor-driver whom they shot dead, driving off in his lorry. A number of fires believed to be incendiary also broke out. Considerable damage has been done.

London, June 1—The Manchester Regiment has been ordered to leave Guernsey for Ireland on June 20.

London, June, 1.—Disorders were renewed in Belfast this morning when four people were killed and nine wounded, and a number of tramcars bombed. British troops interviewed with concentrated fire, momentarily silencing the gunmen.

Later, however, rebels swept the streets with machine gun fire.

Two Republican officers were arrested during the fighting.

A truce was declared last night on the Strabane-Lifford frontier where fighting has lasted for some days. The military have taken over from specials the guard of the frontier on the Tyrone and Donegal border.

Two camps, each containing several hundred Republican troops, have been established on the Northern and Southern sides of Derry City.

London, June 1.—The Ulster Association states that from December 6 last to May 29, 14 police and 2 soldiers were killed and 29 police and 14 soldiers wounded. Also, between May 20 and May 29, some 77 fires broke out resulting in an estimated destruction of over £500,000.

London, June, 1.—The Court of Inquiry on the death of General Adamson, Commander of the pro-Treaty Athlone Brigade of the Irish Republican Army, who was held up and shot by Republican troops on April 25, found that the seizure of the General's motor car led to a series of events accompanied by indiscretion on both sides.

It was impossible to determine the responsibility for firing the first shot which resulted in the outburst of firing, but the court was convinced that the shooting of General Adamson was unpremeditated.

London, June 1.—It is announced that Earl Balfour is actively participating in the London conferences on the Irish situation. He will meet Sir James Craig and the Marquis of Londonderry at the Foreign Office tomorrow.

There is no indication that the proceedings at the meeting of the British signatories to the Treaty have brightened the situation, which is regarded as most critical in Government quarters.

MELLOWS GIVEN SIX MONTHS FOR CHECK FORGERY

Youth Sentenced In British Supreme Court Following Guilty Verdict

Thomas Mellows, Jr., was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor in the British Supreme Court by His Honor Judge Peter Grain yesterday after he had been found guilty of forging a check on the American-Oriental Bank on May 11, 1922, with intent to defraud.

Mr. A. G. Mossop, acting crown advocate, in outlining to the jury the facts of the case, said that Mr. C. Thomasevitch, boarding house keeper at No. 17 Range Road reported that young Mellows had engaged a room in his house from March 23. The terms were $145 a month. On May 9, Mellows owed $160, and when the bill was presented, he asked Thomasevitch to accompany him to see his father. He said that his father would give Thomasevitch a check for the amount. They went together to the Customs Club, and young Mellows went inside. He returned after five minutes, and presented a check, which, on presentation to the bank the next day was rejected with the remark "No Account." Thomasevitch was never paid the money.

Thomasevitch told his story from the witness stand and was corroborated by his wife. A clerk employed by the American-Oriental bank testified that he had endorsed the check "No Account With Us."

Inspector T. Mellows of the River Police, father of the defendant declared that he had guaranteed his son's board up to $50 per month and had paid $50 on one occasion and understood that the entire indebtedness was discharged thereby. He had never had an account with the American Oriental Bank. The signature on the check was in his son's writing and was nothing like his own. At the Customs Club on the day the check was handed to Thomasevitch, his son had come to him and told him that he was going away in a day or two on a ship.

"I told him 'I am pleased to hear it. I hope you never come back'" Inspector Mellows said. "He went out then and I saw him join Thomasevitch, who patted around him as they left the club."

Young Mellows took the witness stand in his own defense and read a lengthy statement in which he said that he never intended forgery. The signature on the check was in his writing, he admitted. He intended to get the check back and destroy it. He had no criminal intention whatever.

His Lordship, in addressing the jury, declared that practically no defense whatsoever had been shown. After being out ten minutes the jury returned a verdict of "guilty" on the first two charges and "not guilty" on the charge of obtaining credit under false pretenses. The clerk of court announced a previous conviction on three charges, and His Lordship, in passing sentence, remarked that he was giving a much lighter sentence than he ought to.

Growth Of City Has Created Heavy Demands

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 2.—At a meeting of the Shanghai Electric Construction Company yesterday, Mr. Donald McColl, the General Manager, emphasised the urgency of extensions and said that the great development of Shanghai as a distributing center and its still more marvellous development as an industrial center had created quite exceptional traffic demands. If all the proposed extensions could be introduced immediately, they would only partly meet the existing needs.

Sir Alfred Dent, the Chairman, announced that negotiations had been opened with a view to the company's administering the Singapore Tramways.

Empress Special Service Is Started

The Canadian Pacific have inaugurated the Empress Steamship Special between Chicago and Vancouver, making immediate connections at Vancouver with departing and arriving Empress steamers. The time of this fast special train is 72 hours, making connections at Chicago to and from all Eastern United States points. A passenger from New York to the Orient may travel from New York in 96 hours and 40 minutes, going direct to the ship's side and losing no time waiting for the steamer. This train renders it useless for passengers to arrive at Vancouver one or two days ahead of time as the steamer will always wait for the arrival of the Empress Steamship Special.

Sterling At New Post War Level

(Reuter Service)

New York, June 2.—Sterling registered its highest point since the war yesterday, the pound reaching $4.46. The advance is due to expectations from the German moratorium and the proposed German external loan, which would lead to re-establishment of large credits in London in favor of Germany.

BOMBERS SENTENCED

(Reuter's Service)

Milan, June 2.—The trial of the bombers of the Diana Theater, which was blown up on March 23, 1921, 20 persons being killed and many seriously injured, has resulted in two being sentenced to penal servitude for life, including a period of solitary confinement. A youth of 20 years of age has been sentenced to 30 years imprisonment, and 10 others to between four and 14 years.

Firing The Cook In China Is A Summary Process

By Elsie McCormick

Too many cooks, says the proverb, spoil the broth. Having had our broth spoiled lately by one cook, half a cook, and no cook at all, we feel that the proverb requires an amplification. Now that our galley is tenanted by something in a white apron who apparently knows the difference between a string-bean and a cup of custard, we are able to draw a long breath and to wonder just where we were "at" before the domestic catacylsm descended in our midst.

Not long ago somebody who had scrutinised our tea-cup told us that several dark-haired gentlemen would soon cross our path. They have, and in some doing they almost permanently crossed our disposition. It all began when Ah Ching, not satisfied with sordid reality, initiated the practice of buying his castles in Spain in the form of little contraband pellets.

Up to that time, Ah Ching had deserved the rating of a smooth-running domestic machine, his only flaws being a weakness for lottery-tickets and a habit of persecuting the family cat. We learned later from our other domestic problem that at least four coppers worth of the five coppers of fish allotted each day to O'Grady were consumed by Ah Ching, who was thus saved the cost of a midday meal. This fact accounted for O'Grady's chop-stealing propensities and the presence of her shoulder-blades, two qualities that had hitherto mystified us.

When Ah Ching's emulation of the nodding poppy became more and more marked, we offered to stand the cost of treatment in a local hospital. As he was just beginning to get a really good time out of the habit, he didn't perceive any reason why he should let a hospital spoil his dreams for him. Seeing the wisdom of his argument, we promptly made an arrangement whereby all his time would be free for the building of castles in Ningpo.

FIRING THE COOK

Discharging a cook in China differs radically from the same procedure at home. There is no such thing as giving notice, for instance. The blow must fall with the unhesitating speed of a heads-man's axe. The Ah Chings of Shanghai are here today and gone tomorrow, their departure taking place about ten minutes after missie delivers her ultimatum. To the griffin from home this system seems harsh and unfair, but any resident with domestic experience can tell just what would be likely to occur if Ah Ching knew about his coming absence about a month in advance and had all that time for leisurely selection among the family's wardrobes and other chattels.

When Ah Ching's notice is short, he has time only to pack his own wicker hampers and these must be submitted to missie's inspection before his departure. It is true that he occasionally leaves with a handful of family silver tucked under his portrait of the kitchen god, but at least he can get away with less than he could if he were able to leave the house informally every day for a month.

Chinese servants are usually trustworthy when family possessions are placed definitely in their charge. If, however, Missie makes them lose face by means of a dismissal, they immediately declare a moratorium on the Buddhist version of the Ten Commandments and adopt anything that doesn't happen to be soldered down.

When Ah Ching takes his aprons from the kitchen wall and his shoes from under the stove, he leaves Missie with nothing to do except find a successor. Employment offices being practically non-existent, Missie's usual procedure is to telephone her friends and ask them to drop a hint or two to their own cooks. Every cook, we have discovered, has a

GREAT STIR AT HANKOW OVER JAPANESE ACTION

Arrest Of Korean Suspect Stirs Much Resentment

Independent News Service

Hankow, May 31.—The arrest of a Korean named K. C. Lee by four Japanese constables at his Chun Hsin stocking factory in Wuchang on May 18 has given rise to a series of anti-Japanese agitations in Hankow and Wuchang, which heightened yesterday in a joint meeting by representatives of the Chinese Barristers Association, the Students Federation, the Chinese Newspaper Reporters Union, the Chinese-Korean Cooperative Society, the Y.M.C.A., the Associated Street Unions and several Trade Guilds.

The Korean, Lee, was charged by authorities of the Japanese Concession of Hankow with complicity in the attempted assassination of Baron General Tanaka of Japan by Korean fanatics at Shanghai in March this year, as well as other activities in connection with the Korean national movement. He was also charged with close affiliation with Bolshevik propaganda.

The four Japanese policemen visited the Korean at his factory, and started a thorough search of his house with a view to finding letters and documents wherewith to identify him with the charges brought upon him. A letter from a Chinese official was found in his possession in which the Korean was praised for his sacrifices in the cause of his country. The Japanese were on the point of marching Mr. K. C. Lee out of his factory when some Chinese policemen of the Fifth Ward of Wuchang questioned the Japanese constables' authority in effecting this arrest in a Chinese territory without an official warrant from the Chinese Foreign Office at Hankow.

The Japanese and Lee were then marched off to the Fifth Ward Police Station of Wuchang, where an inquiry into the circumstances was held, and the Japanese were dismissed from the court while Lee was held in temporary detention at the station. The incident at once aroused strong press opposition in Chinese newspapers of Hankow, which urged strong measures by Chinese authorities to avenge the

OLD HSU GETS OUT AT PEKING; LI YUAN-HUNG TO TAKE REINS

Former President In New Residence At Tientsin

WU'S HAND SEEN

Old Parliament To Meet At Capital Soon

BY JOSEF W. HALL

(Staff Correspondent)

Peking, June 2.—President Hsu Shih-chang left the palace at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon, and proceeded to the station, where he later boarded a train for Tientsin. It is reported that he will take up his residence in a new home there. The Paotingfu authorities express great satisfaction over this turn of events.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 2.—A Mandate issued this morning contains the resignation of President Hsu Shih-chang, who left for Tientsin this afternoon.

Peking, June 2.—Mr. Hsu Shih-chang vacated the Presidency at 1:15 this afternoon. The special train conveying him to Tientsin left at 3:15 p.m.

Ex-President Li Yuan-hung is expected in Peking tomorrow and probably also the members of the Old Parliament who have notified the Secretariat of the Anfuite Parliament that it must vacate the Parliamentary Office immediately.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, June 1.—According to a telephone message from Tientsin, more than 200 Members of Parliament of both Houses today convened an urgency meeting there, at which a motion introduced by Messrs. Wu Ching-ling and Wang Chia-jang that since the old Parliament was dissolved illegally, it should exercise its functions as from this day and that a Government should be organised with General Li Yuan-hung as President, as he was legally elected President, was discussed and passed unanimously.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 2.—Mr. Hsu Shih-chang's telegram to the Provincial authorities and public bodies referred to the telegram which he received from General Sun Chuan-fang, Commandant of the Second Division in Hupei, which briefly urged the recall of the Old Parliament and the retirement of both Mr. Hsu Shih-chang and Dr. Sun Yat-sen as the only means of solving the present difficulties. Mr. Hsu Shih-chang's telegram is as follows:

"When entrusted with State affairs my sincere desire was to maintain peace, serve the welfare of the people and unify the country. Serious disturbances, however, have since occurred and great changes have followed one another. I endeavored to meet the difficulties but failed to avert the calamities. Having received on May 28 the telegram from General Sun Chung-fang I was filled with trepidation. The loyal expressions and strong arguments contained in this telegram met with the wishes of my heart.

"If things can be pushed on in the way General Sun Chuan-fang suggests, the people will be united, the rebels suppressed, the country saved from distress and placed on a firmer basis, the Government enlightened and the country will be made prosperous. In such circumstances I will enjoy peace and happiness the rest of my life even if retired from active politics. The fact that men of proven ability are now resolved to co-operate for the attainment of these great objects affords opportunity which should not be neglected. If appropriate measures can be found I will be happy to retire immediately. I have hereby expressed that which is in my mind and respectfully await your advice."

Peking, June 2.—The only military activity reported is the battle which was in progress at Hailin yesterday, the result of which is not yet known.

The Tuchun of Heilungkiang is reported to be despatching 5,000 troops against the invaders, whose position is not considered very strong.

The Shanhaikwan front is quiet. Peitaiho is now clear of all troops though the police there have not recovered their arms.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 29.—Acting on the order of the Ministry of War the Peking Garrison has sealed the residence of General Tsou Fen, former Commandant of the 16th Division. The place was first searched and some arms and ammunition taken away by the police.

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, June 2.—The cabinet has been urged to hold office until Hsu's successor is named. The old parliament, convened at Tientsin, will issue a manifesto deposing Hsu Shih-chang and offering the presidency to Li Yuan-hung who was forced out by militarists in 1917.

It is reported that Tsao Kun, the powerful military leader of the North will be Vice President.

Sun Yat-sen has been formally invited to co-operate in the movement to unify China.

The Old Parliament now will move to Peking and assume control.

MANY ENEMIES OF CHANG EAGER TO PUT HIM OUT

Mukden Warlord's Chickens Are On Way Home To Roost

(China Press Correspondence)

Paotingfu, May 30.—Believing that the anti-Chang Tso-lin movement in Manchuria, for which he has been waiting, has now reached the point where it will be encouraged rather than suppressed as a result of a Chihli drive upon Chang Tso-lin, General Wu Pei-fu has authorised a northward advance in force. All Chihli forces except the Christian troops (Eleventh Division) who are returning to Honan, are now moving past Tientsin or overland on the old military road from Peking in the direction of the Great Wall.

While giving his commanders the order—which they had desired for so long—to advance, General Wu has cautioned them to take over territory slowly and conduct operations en masse. A battalion of men from Wang Huai-ching's Thirteenth left Peking this morning to garrison Longfang and other points along the railway between Peking and Tientsin at the request of General Wu, since the Chihli garrisons from these places have moved onward.

Generals Kao and Liu, who are said to be in control of the movement against Chang Tso-lin, have not yet established direct touch with General Wu Pei-fu, although General Wu, in harmony with an intimation received from Kirin at the time of Chang Tso-lin's evacuation from Tientsin, has desisted from forcing Chang Tso-lin immediately back to Mukden in the thought that Chang's absence from his seat would encourage the movement against him in his own provinces.

Thus far the movement cannot be definitely traced to General Meng En-yuan, the relative of Chang Tso-lin who was two years ago dismissed from the Tuchunship of Kirin by Chang. Meng is a very old man and is residing in his Tientsin residence in feeble senility. Chang Tso-lin has, however, treated his underlings so roughly that there are many, aside from General Meng, who would take pleasure in giving him the finishing stroke.

CALLED BANDIT MOVE

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, May 31.—A Harbin telegram dated May 30 states that with regard to the incident at Pogranitchnaya, the Headquarters of the Kirin troops on May 27 notified all Consuls of the Powers at Harbin to the following effect:

"Lu Yung-chi, Commander of the so-called emergency troops, on May 26 disturbed public peace in Pogranitchnaya in conspiracy with mounted bandits. Lu Yung-chi was formerly a bandit and his subordinates too are not regular military men.

"The present disturbances have been created by these bandits, whom the Kirin troops are now doing everything in their power to subjugate, as they are disturbing public peace and destroying the Chinese Eastern Railway.

"Inasmuch as the Kirin troops are gaining victory after victory over these outlaws, the state of affairs will without doubt be restored to tranquility again before long.

"The Headquarters of the Kirin troops hereby declare that it is responsible as heretofore for the complete protection of organs of communications and lives as well as properties of all foreign residents in and near Pogranitchnaya."

JAPAN DENIES CHAGRIN OVER CHANG'S DEFEAT

"Always Neutral And Friendly," Says Statement

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, May 31.—The Jiji today writes:—

"As the result of the recent hostilities between Fengtien and Chihli, the influence of General Wu Pei-fu has of a sudden swollen, resulting in a more powerful position of the Peking Government, which is operating behind General Wu Pei-fu. In this sense, it may be inferred that time has come when a stable government can be established in China. Taking this opportunity, therefore, Ministers of the four Powers at Peking, namely, Japan, Great Britain, the United States, and France, have of late decided to memorialise their home Governments regarding the question whether or not it is advisable to help China financially and otherwise in order to establish a sound Government in that country."

In this connection, Japanese authorities have made the following official statement:—

"The Japanese Government has, as a matter of course, a sincere desire to have a stable Government established in China as soon as possible after securing the unification and public peace of the country. If there should be anyone, who is competent enough to complete this great undertaking without depending upon military power, no matter whether he may be General Wu Pei-fu, or Chang Tso-lin or Dr. Sun Yat-sen, such a person shall naturally be rendered necessary assistance so that he may be able to bring about the unification of the country.

"If, therefore, Great Britain, the United States, and France intend to give an advice to the Chinese Government as to the method of establishing a stable central Government, there can be no reason why the Japanese Government should refuse to act in concert with the Powers in question, and the Japanese Government is also willing to co-operate with the Powers when the latter want to give the Chinese Government such aid as they find necessary.

"Though there are those who are of opinion that Japan has hitherto supported Chang Tso-lin and that Japan does not like to see General Wu Pei-fu's pro-British and pro-American tendency, such a notion is entirely due to their misunderstanding of the real spirit of Japan, for she has always taken an attitude of strict neutrality towards the internal strife in China.

"In fact, she has maintained absolutely a fair and just policy towards China and this may be proven by the fact that the Government of Japan has already decided to withdraw the Japanese troops from Hankow without any condition. Moreover, the rumor that Japan has hitherto assisted Chang Tso-lin and has taken a dislike to Wu Pei-fu, who, as a consequence, has become friendly with Great Britain and the United States but antagonistic to Japan, is absolutely without foundation.

"The foregoing may be plainly confirmed by the fact that General Wu Pei fu has, it is alleged, told a high official in the Japanese Legation at Peking that although up to the present he has had very few opportunities to make friendship with the Japanese people, he wished to obtain assistance of Japan for the future development of China and that if there should be any misunderstanding as to his attitude or mind towards Japan, he hoped to endeavor to clear away such misunderstanding.

"Judging by this statement made by General Wu Pei-fu, it is evident that the allegation so frequently reported in certain quarters that General Wu Pei-fu is ultra anti-Japanese is a canard fabricated by those who have an axe to grind and is a thing which indicates anything but the real intention of General Wu Pei-fu."

[Ed. In regard to the foregoing, supplied by a Japanese news agency, effort will be made to learn exactly what Wu Pei-fu said to afford the Japanese their foundation for the above "official" statement.]

Shippers To Points North Of Tientsin Advised To Wait

A telegram has been received by the local buying agencies representing Chinese firms in Tientsin and Peking containing instructions to the effect that the shipment of merchandise to trade centers in the vicinity of Shanhaikwan should, for the present, be suspended according to the Chinese press. The telegram says that after the withdrawal of the Fengtien troops to the other side of the Wall during last month, Chang Tso-lin has recruited a large number of new soldiers of the abled-bodied type including a large number of Hunghutze, and is making preparations for launching another offensive.

Reference to Hunghutze is also made in a telegram received by the naval headquarters here from Admiral Sah Cheng-pen in which it is said that Chang Tso-lin's return to this side of the Wall is due to the situation of internal dissension in Manchuria and that in order to strengthen his position he has recruited several thousands of Hunghutze.

Tsao Kun Denies Aims To Defeat Li

(China Press Correspondence)

Paotingfu, June 2 (noon).—Tsao Kun who has been prominently mentioned for Vice-President under Li Yuan-hung, has authorised a public statement that he has no presidential ambitions and is willing to leave the question of his future career to the dictum of Parliament and people.

He is considering circularising the provinces to allay any fear that might be felt that his ambitions would stand in the way of Li Yuan-hung's resumption of the office.

Tsao Kun insists that Dr. Sun Yat-sen should follow this policy with equal self-abnegation.

The great danger now appears to be lest Wu Pei-fu, having been persuaded by inexperienced advisers to take an active part in politics may push ahead too ruthlessly causing unnecessary loss of face and the attendant bad feeling.

Li Yuan-hung, being very comfortable where he now is, will not return to the president's chair if it means getting himself into a mess.

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, June 1.—General Tsai Cheng-hsun, newly appointed Commander-in-Chief of the reinforcements to Kiangsi, has of late requested the Peking Government to provide him with military funds to the amount of $350,000, but the Government has remitted only $80,000. In consequence, General Tsai is not willing to proceed to the front in Kiangsi. It is expected that he will leave here for Kiangsi after receiving the full amount.

Peking Has Plan For Funding Debts

considerable pledging of securities or revenues. To the extent to which such will be required, the framers of this scheme are prepared to pledge the increase in customs revenue, which is to be worked out by the international committee which, according to the stipulation of the Washington treaty, is to meet in January or next year. This plan, indeed, is anticipatory of the action which that committee would in any case take, but it is certainly better for all concerned that the initiative for the application of this increase in revenue to foreign obligations should come from the Chinese themselves.

It is not planned to borrow to meet current administrative expenses. It is hoped by Messrs. Tung Kang and Kao En-hung that the savings effected by the abolition of superfluous posts and the introduction of measures of efficiency will enable the Government to pay its way as it goes. As a means of working toward this end the Ministries and Departments of Government and the Railways are being put back, as far as is practicable, upon the budgets of the first year of the Republic. An idea of the savings which it is hoped to effect through this change was given by Mr. Kao En-hung who spoke of two railways as examples. The operating expense budget for the first year of the Kinhan Railway was thirty-four million dollars. This year it is forty-seven million—an increase of thirteen million, or more than forty percent. The Peking-Mukden Railway's budget of operating expenses has increased within the same period of time by eighteen million dollars per annum.

HOPES TO SAVE

Mr. Kao hopes to effect a saving of at least thirty million dollars per annum on railway expenses. This, considering the pruning which he is making in budgets, seems to be a modest and safe estimate. At the same time he plans to save ten million dollars per year on the administrative expenses of the Ministry—which does not appeal to one as so simple a problem. The savings which he has already provided for by abolition of salaries amount to three million dollars per year. If the railways can be brought back to the earning capacity of two years ago and the new audit system introduced by Mr. Kao proves an effective safeguard for the surplus revenue, the Government should be better off by some twenty to forty million dollars yearly from this source, which have heretofore gone into the pockets of the Chaotung clique.

The loan refunding scheme takes care of all Government obligations with the exception of payments due British, Japanese and American arms for materials supplied for the Government Railways. These are said to total something like twenty-five million dollars. They are, however, secured upon the materials themselves and the railway revenues are pledged for their liquidation. The moment that efficient railway management and the return of peaceful conditions provide earnings surpassing operating expenses, these obligations will take care of themselves.

The only remaining financial problem of any magnitude is that of the support of the troops. It would appear that henceforth the only military forces which are to receive recognition and support from the Peking Government are to be the armies of General Wu Pei-fu. The Cabinet in its last meeting pledged General Wu one million dollars per month for the upkeep of his forces in return for which Wu is to release his hold upon the Hupeh salt revenues and the revenues of the Peking-Hankow railway, allowing these to revert as originally to the Central Government.

The Minister of Finance has in turn requested General Wu to enforce the payment of the proper provincial contributions to the Central Government's upkeep. The General has replied that he is prepared at any time to obey a reasonable mandate of the Government in event of the recalcitrance of provincial officials.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefuly and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcu powder. (Advt.)

Kao En-hung, New Rail Chief, No Respector Of Job Holders With 'Pull'

BY JABIN HSU

Staff Correspondent the China Press.

Peking, May 31.—At 6.45, a most unusual hour for Chinese officials to receive guests, Mr. Kao En-hung, the new Minister of Communications, saw me in the modestly furnished office of the Yamen of Chiatungpu. At the same time in the same room, he received a dozen others, including former officials of the ministry, friends and office seekers. Interviewing Mr. Kao is like attending the newspapermen's conference of one of the department secretaries in Washington. The only difference is that the newspapermen or guests only respond when spoken to while the Minister does all the talking.

In the 45 minutes that followed the usual exchange of greetings, Mr. Kao impressed me as being a patriot and an ardent, almost radical, reformer, covering extensive fields in the political arena of discussion. His rapid fire manner of speech revealed much that the public desires to know and gives one the real insight of the conditions in Chinese officialdom.

"I know I am against great odds in my attempt to liquidate the affairs of the ministry," said Mr. Kao in part. "But I am placing myself in a position similar to that of a manager newly appointed for a bankrupt firm. There is no denying that the ministry as well as the government is bankrupt. Receipts are diminishing while expenditures are increasing. The result is that we have been borrowing foreign and domestic loans until today our receipts are only sufficient to pay the interest for loans, leaving the administrative expenses to take care of themselves.

LOPS OFF HEADS

"In the four of five days since I assumed office, I have eliminated more than 300 officials in our ministry, thus saving the ministry some $20,000 a month. It is my hope that only the personnel of the ministry that was authorised by the Presidential Mandate promulgated in 1911 be retained to carry on the functions of the ministry, thus reducing the salary roll $20,000 a month instead of employing thousands of officials who draw pay and do no work. This elimination was one of the conditions under which I agreed to serve. I was quite comfortable in my Shanghai office (Minister Kao, before coming to the present office was Chief of the Supply Department of the Chinese Telegraph Administration on Markham Road), but I was oblized to come, after General Wu Pei-fu and General Chang Shao-tseng had sent me 13 telegrams in rapid succession."

Minister Kao here scored the reckless and corrupt way in which men handled the supplies of the ministry. He pointed out that a total of some $80,000,000 worth of material has been purchased which is unfit for use along the railroads or for the telegraphic service. On top of this, the ministry has to waste further good money by paying for its storage. After enumerating statistics concerning the deplorable conditions in the ministry and its many subordinate bureaus, Mr. Kao announced his firm determination to save his ministry and battle against corruption so long he is in office.

This is what Kao said to a foreign financial representative who pressed for the redemption of loan of the ministry: "Our house has already tumbled. But we must build up a few shacks from the debris in order to have a little shelter against rain and storm before we can proceed to erect a magnificent mansion."

HITS HIGH SPOTS

In his campaign against superfluous officials, Mr. Kao did not seek the line of least resistence as some other officials do. One of the first men to be placed on the waiting list was the brother of the president, Hsu Shih-tsang who holds half a dozen concurrent offices but attends to the business of one or two if at all. A large number of advisors, counsellors and secretaries also were lopped off, while others had resigned on account of the strict requirement of the new minister for all members of the department to attend office during the regular office hours and then some more.

Minister Kao received his guests as early as 6 a.m. begins his duties as the executive head of the minister promptly at eight when he expects all councilors, departmental chief and senior secretaries to be working with him in the same room, and commences dispersing his staff only when dusk arrives. He talks to his subordinates courteously but tersely. Neither is he choice in his words when he is addressing guests. Judging by the way he spoke to our gathering this morning, I believe he must have offended many personal friends and more office seekers. He talks openly. He asks for suggestions. When suggestions are given, he comments on them, citing many facts and figures to justify his comment. He is always master of the situation.

In the reception room of the yamen, there were pictures of 26 former Ministers and vice-ministers on the wall many of which are now decorating the rogues' gallery. I wondered if any of them could have dared to talk to a newspaperman or the public the way that Mr. Kao did.

Hankow Stirred By Japanese Move

Japanese disrespect and insult of Chinese law.

Mr. A. Segawa, Japanese Consul-General, issued a statement to the Chinese newspapers, explaining that the Japanese constables were sent to Wuchang for the purpose of "investigating" the Korean in question, adding that owing to certain misunderstandings and some mistakes in the procedure, the whole incident was misrepresented to the public. The Japanese note also denied that the Japanese meant to infringe upon Chinese sovereignty.

This failed to appease the indignant public and after several public meetings the following three demands were made on the Japanese: (1) The Japanese Consul shall make an official apology to the Chinese Foreign Office, (2) The Japanese authorities shall give an assurance that nothing of the kind shall happen again, and (3) The four Japanese constables shall be properly punished for their disrespect of Chinese law. Efforts are also being made by Chinese organisations to effect the release of Lee and an assurance has been given that his freedom would not be denied him as soon as official negotiations are concluded.

On a call at the Chinese Foreign Office, the Japanese Consul-General owned that the Japanese constables were responsible for the fault, and has already given his verbal apology for their omission. He has also withdrawn his original intention to effect extradition of the Korean, emphasising the incident merely as an investigation mistakenly executed.

Three Big Steel Concerns Combine

(China Press Service)

New York, June 1.—It is announced that a plan has been adopted whereby the properties of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company, the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and the Inland Steel Company are to be merged under the ownership of the Midvale Company and with the probable name North American Steel Company. This merger creates a serious opponent of the steel trust.

A little and good

Here you see both sides of one

THERE is a distinguishing feature in the business of the house of HAIG & HAIG. Most Distillers have various brands of varying qualities. HAIG & HAIG have one brand only, and they claim (and the public acclaim) that it is the finest that goes from Scotland.

It is a regrettable fact that all retailers have not the same high standard of commercial honesty, and it is known that cheaper brands are sometimes passed on to the public under the label of houses of high repute.

When you see a genuine bottle of HAIG & HAIG Five Stars Scots Whisky it will be the same fine quality in London, in Lucknow, or in Labrador; in the Langham Hotel, in the G.O.H. at Colombo, and in the best Clubs in Cape Town.

WU SURPRISED HE DID NOT WIN WAR IN 24 HOURS

Tells Interviewers Of Plan For Political Reorganisation

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, May 29.—General Wu Pei-fu has definitely announced himself in favor of the reconvocation of the old Parliament although he does not consider that this will solve all of the vexing political questions now facing the country, according to a statement brought back by Japanese officials who interviewed him in Paotingfu.

The old parliament, he stated, must be called together as a matter of course, because it is necessary to do so to conform with the constitution and because moreover it is the sentiment of the people throughout the entire country. On the other hand he feels that it is also necessary to have a people's conference at the same time and to secure the reunification of the North and South through the co-operation of the provinces.

He again expressed his determination to keep aloof from the cabinet situation, but sensing the wholesale corruption of the cabinet and the bankruptcy toward which the country was rapidly being thrust by dishonest handling of these finances he felt it absolutely necessary to get someone in before it was too late.

"I know," he said, "that Tung Kang is an honest man, who executes his duties faithfully and who will not himself permit those irregularities which have so long been practiced by the Ministry of Finance. I desire that such men should be recommended for service in the Government and it is a pity that there are so few of them in our country at the present time."

In discussing the late war, Wu told the Japanese visitors that it was somewhat different from the other campaigns he had conducted. Formerly he had been against bandits and irregular bodies of troops. This time he faced a regular army fully equipped and with strong positions against him. He had hoped to clear the Metropolitan area of all troops in 24 hours, but instead the process took seven days.

Chungking Wants Bank Loan Repaid

Independent News Service

Hankow, May 27.—The Chinese Chamber of Commerce at Chungking has petitioned the Peking government urging the Ministry of Finance to square up a short term domestic loan of $1,800,000 which has been left long overdue. Owing to the government defaulting in repayment the Tah Chung Banking Corporation, through which the loan was issued, has been compelled to suspend business following a serious run on that bank about three months ago.

The Chungking Chamber of Commerce has reminded the Peking government of its obligation to encourage financial institutions in China so as to promote industries and commerce. Should the government fail to meet its obligations in this loan, it will be breaking a contract legally executed by both parties concerned.

N. Y. K. Announces Cut Rates To Japan

The N.Y.K. has announced its usual summer vacation fare reduction schedule, to begin June 15, and applying to Japanese ports. The reduced rates, which are about one third less than the ordinary rates, will be in force until September 14.

The first-class fares are as follows:

From Shanghai to Nagasaki and return M. $75.

From Shanghai to Moji and return M. $100.

From Shanghai to Kobe and return M. $130.

From Shanghai to Yokohama and return M. $150.

Stop-over will be allowed at any port of call.

Pootung Strikers Returning To Work

The strikers at the Japanese owned Nikko Cotton mills, in Pootung, who now have been out ten days, are showing signs of weakening in their demands, with the result that many of them are returning to work. In the meantime the mill owners have notified the strikers of their intention to replace those who left their jobs with other workers.

The strikers expected to obtain support of sympathisers in Shanghai, and a sum of money was promised them. This, however, has not been forthcoming with a result that many of the strikers are feeling the pinch of idleness. The Pootung police have refused to allow meetings of strikers, and this has prevented any concerted action.

Firing The Cook In China Is A Summary Process

brother and the brother is always out of employment.

If you don't like the brother, your friend's cook is cheerfully willing to contribute his cousin, also out of work. When you have exhausted all the buds on one family tree, you may start on another, and another, until you are quite ready to believe what the geography book used to say about how long it would take the population of China to pass single-file by a given point.

DIFFERENCE IN COOKS

One of the first things you learn during the course of your search is that the art of cooking is not an inherited characteristic given to running in families. Your friend's cook may be able to bake sponge-cake as light as a flapper's head, nevertheless his brother's product may suggest the use of the bath-room sponge as its main ingredient. One of the culinary birds of passage who flew over our menage during the past week was the son of one of the most illustrious cooks in the city of Shanghai. After his first meal, however, we proceeded to take our dinners out of tin cans, keeping the youth chiefly in the capacity of boy. While waiting on table, he dropped a slice of bread on the floor, kicked it with foot, picked it up again, rubbed it on his gown and restored it to the plate. His association with the family terminated that evening.

Employers of new cooks are familiar with the domestic gem who brings a small relation along for the purpose of "learn pidgin." If Missie drops into the kitchen she is likely to find the new cook playing mah-jongg next door and his ten-year-old brother preparing the meal.

After much indigestion and weariness of spirit, we have finally secured a cook who can charm a saucepan into producing something almost edible. But alas! our house is small and our kitchen is not much larger than a telephone-booth. We point out to the cook that a small house means less pidgin; we dangle before his eyes the prospect of many evenings out when friends incite us to have dinner elsewhere. The frown of discontent, however, will not be smoothed from his forehead, for though a small house means less work it also means less face. Our new Ah Ching is obviously concerned about the possible collapse of his social position. There isn't any room for building an addition to the house, so we are feverishly promising him such features as a new electric-light fixture in the kitchen and a new window in the space that he uses as a drawing-room when entertaining his supercilious friends. Whether these improvements will detain him or not we cannot say; if they don't, we'll have no alternative except to pick up the burden of life again and look forward to another session with the unemployed brothers of our friend's star kitchen deities.

People's Assembly At Vladivostok Acting

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, June 2.—M. Nikolai Merkulov, brother of the President, has sought refuge with the Japanese Staff but President Spiridon Merkulov remains at home inactive under the protection of the Marine Rifles.

The National Assembly is temporarily acting as the nominal Government but order is being maintained by General Moltchanov and the Kappel troops. The position is still unclear. The Zemstvo Board yesterday resolved to recognise the new authority.

The Union of Loading Workmen has sent a delegation to the National Assembly offering their assistance to M. Andrushkevitch and the Central Bureau of Trades Unions has also expressed the view that the new authority was preferable to the previous one, for the working classes.

Poincare Replies To Chamber Queries

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 1.—Interpellations on foreign policy in the Chamber of Deputies today were replied to by M. Poincare, who, in view of the Allied negotiations was reticent with regard to Near Eastern settlement. With regard to Germany he hoped that it should be possible for France to be able to avoid isolated action, but pointed out her inability to maintain accords, however desirable, if it meant sacrificing French rights to them.

M. Poincare voiced a broad but friendly view of Anglo-French relations, declaring that the various recent incidents had not estranged the two nations and insisting on the impossibility of there being a complete identity of opinion in an Entente policy, however close it might be.

$7,265 Deposited To Redeem Railway

The second week of the savings campaign for the redemption of the Shantung Railway which ended May 27, witnessed a total deposit of $7,265 by 1,174 persons. The majority of depositors for the week were students of various schools. People of large means have not deposited their money in banks as savings for redeeming the railway, but are waiting to buy the shares of the railway company. Realising the importance of an early formation of the Kiaochow-Tsinanfu Railway Company, the Committee on Redemption of the Shantung Railway of Shanghai is working hard at present toward this end, and is pushing at the same time the savings campaign among the common people until the company is organised.

E. Rorphuro, mother of Mr. T. R. Hyde, Manager of the Delmonte. Mrs. Rorphuro, who has been in Shanghai for the past six months is returning to her home in Fresno, California.

St. Joseph's Will Have Bazaar Today

St. Joseph's Institute will hold a bazaar today as a means of raising funds for a baby home and for other charities. Madame H. Wilden, wife of the French Consul-General, will open the fair at 3:30. The students of the school will give an entertainment in connection with the Bazaar.

Postal Strike Agitator Jailed

Li Chi-han, one of the leading labor agitators in Shanghai, was arrested Thursday by Detective Inspector Sullivan, and charged with obstructing the delivery of mails by inciting employes of the Chinese Post Office to strike, before British Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan in the Mixed Court yesterday morning. The case was remanded for further hearing and Li released on $500 bail.

Li is a student and the editor of The Worker's Weekly, a radical labor journal. He is also a prominent member of the Labor Secretariat, a Central organisation for labor unions, and his offices at 19 C. Chengtu Road have been the headquarters for the collecting of funds for the benefit of various strikers.

He led the agitation in Shanghai at the time of the Hongkong seaman's strike and was fined $50 in the Mixed Court for intimidating strikebreakers who were being recruited by the shipping companies to take the places of the strikers.

Recently he is alleged to have incited the postal employes to strike, and has been taking an active part in raising funds and supporting the striking mill workers of Pootung.

Wedding

TWINEM-FINE

Friends from Shanghai, Nanking, Tsinan, Nanhsuchow, and near by places gathered on Tuesday at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Du Bois Schank Morris at Hwai Yuen to witness the wedding of Miss Mary Dorothy Fine, of the American Presbyterian Mission, North, to the Rev. Paul De Witt Twinem, of the University of Nanking.

In the late afternoon sunshine the bridal party assembled under the trees which form a semi-circle in the garden with West Mountain in the background, the effect heightened by banks of Dorothy Perkins roses and pink hollyhocks on either side. The bride was exquisite in chantilly with an over-dress and train of chiffon satin, veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, snap dragon and sweet peas. Mrs. Du Bois S. Morris, matron of honor, wore pearl grey georgette embroidered with iridescent beads, and carried a bouquet of pink "Goddess of Mercy Willow" and roses, with showers of sweet peas. There were four bridesmaids, Miss Mary McKubbin of Nanking, and Miss Harriet Stroh of Hwai Yuen, gowned in pale pink India crepe with shadow embroidery, and carrying snapdragons and sweet peas, and Miss Chang Chin Shan, and Miss Chou Wen Feng wearing pale blue flowered silk, and carrying St. Johnswort and blue cornflowers. Miss Catherine Sutherland of Nanhsuchow was pianist. Little Eleanor Morris was flower girl, and Master John Morris was ring bearer.

Mr. Claude Thomson of Nanking acted as best man, Mr. James Yip and Mr. Yui Mingdeh, Rev. David B. Van Dyck, and Mr. Maxwell Chaplin as ushers. The Rev. Du Bois S. Morris and the Rev. Sun Hung En officiated. The procession was led by a group of kindergarten children in pink carrying two ropes of English ivy, forming an aisle, Du Bois Morris and Elizabeth Morris at the head. The ceremony opened by the singing of "Oh, Perfect Love" by all present. Before the benediction was pronounced a hymn, written specially for the occasion, the words by the groom, and the music composed by the bride, "Holy Human Love," was sung from the terrace above, by Mrs. Barnes, soprano, and Miss MacCurdy, contralto. After a reception on the terrace and more music the bride and groom left for their honeymoon on Tai Shan, the bride wearing a brown crepe dress embroidered in tan and orange, and a hat trimmed with field flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Twinem will make their home in Nanking.

W.H.C. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

M. C. HOPKINS NEW CAPTAIN OF BASEBALL

Leads Team Today Against Strengthened Team From Nanking

REDS-BLUES TOMORROW

Old Heads To Take On The Younger Men For Sunday

Mr. M. C. Hopkins, right fielder, first baseman and sometimes pitcher for the Shanghai Baseball Club, an old timer in local parts who has won his way with his brother players as well as with the thousand or more fans who usually watch the local games, was elected permanent captain of the baseball team at a special players meeting held in the matshed last evening after the usual practice. Hopkins displaces Bills, a former leader of the local nine, who has acted temporarily this spring.

Capt. Hopkins this afternoon will be charged with the task of leading Shanghai against the second invasion of the collegians from Nanking, the nine led by Harry Kingman, a former pitcher of the New York American league. He will also be charged with the task of winning the match in spite of the fact that Nanking has been strengthened two or three fold since their last appearance here.

With the new captain in charge, and with the stands completed the 1922 season will have its formal opening this afternoon. A capacity crowd is expected to attend. Secretary Jack Smith, while he expects to be in uniform and in action on the field will have several able aides at the bamboo gates to sign fans up as they seek entrance to the grandstand. It is expected that the day will give the local club two or three hundred members delinquent from last year.

Tomorrow the Reds and the Blues will mix in a sure-enough struggle. The Blues will be composed of old timers of the local club, while the Reds will comprise the newcomers. When one considers the list of older heads: Griffith, Bristow, Scott, Hopkins, Holliday, Bills, Maloney, Jack Smith, S. F. Smith, Ladd, Hubbard and others, as opposed to the youngsters, Creighton, Hirsh, Bruce, Wynn, Cardigan, Wood, Swinehart, Cameron, Howland, Miccia, Brown, Jenkins, Campbell and others, a good game is assured.

The games today and tomorrow commence at 3:15 p.m.

The schedule shows the second round to be played by next Wednesday, and the semi-finals by a week from today. The date of the final will be announced later.

HANKOW WINS HENKEL SHIELD FROM SHANGHAI

The American Company of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps lost the annual shooting competition for the G. R. Henkel shield, Hankow winning the tourney by 43 points.

Hankow fired on April 30 while the local men did their shooting Tuesday under miserable conditions, a gale blowing and rain falling while the local Yankees were attempting to score.

Captain A. J. Stewart, Corps Sergt. Major Leighton, and Battery Sergt Major Kemp kindly officiated as umpires in Shanghai, and Captains Lovatt and Jameson in Hankow.

This win gives Hankow four and Shanghai two wins on the shield, which becomes the property of the Company first securing six wins.

ANNA GOULD AND TALLEYRAND ON HONEYMOON HERE

Couple Here From France On Second Bridal Trip
Newly Reconciled

The Duke and Duchess de Talleyrand-Perigord have arrived in Shanghai from France, and are staying at the Palace Hotel for a short time before proceeding to Japan.

The Duchess, who was formerly Anna Gould, is reported to be on a second honeymoon with the Duke. They are said to have just been reconciled, following a disagreement which resulted in her obtaining a divorce from de Talleyrand in Paris. According to dispatches from the French capital, although the Duchess obtained a divorce, the three months' probationary period before it is entered on the records had not expired. The settlement of their marital differences has apparently come before the expiration of the legal time and has automatically nullified further proceedings. American papers have recently said that the Duchess had renounced all rights to the 13-year-old boy, the Duke de Saga, believing that he had been substituted for her own child at birth.

The 7-year-old daughter of the Duchess, Violette Helene de Talleyrand-Perigord, sailed from Europe on the "Paris" of the French line and barely escaped being sent to Ellis Island when the ship arrived in America on April 22. The child, who was not accompanied by parent or legal guardian, but only by a governess, was detained by the immigration authorities until Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Helen Gould, arrived with a lawyer and took her away.

Chauffeur Goes To Prison For Year

A chauffeur employed by the Public Health department was sentenced to one year in jail yesterday after a hearing in the Mixed Court on a charge of careless driving. On May 3 a truck he was driving ran down and killed a Chinese, Ching Nyi-huh, and at the inquest it was shown that he was driving on the wrong side of the street.

Watson And Tipton Win For Harriers start) 2nd, G. E. Marshall, (1 yard start), 3rd. Time: 10 3-5.

M. Seredkin, the Shanghai 100 yards champion ran splendidly but was unable to make up the big handicap. He and Marshall were the two fastest men off their marks. Seredkin finished 3rd in his heat. Jesu scratched to Brockett in the final but the latter got slowly away in the final. Watson, the old Harrier who has been on the running track more years than one cares to count won a good race in the final, getting away with the crack of the pistol he won a tight race with Kabelitz, a coming champion, second and G. E. Marshall, Shanghai 220 yards champion 3rd.

MILE HANDICAP

There was a good turn out for the mile with marks running out to 220 yards. The limit men made the pace hot. Rose, the Club Champion started from scratch. He together with David and Fisher who ran a great mile at the earlier sports bunched together watching each other. Cassin, the holder of the cup could not keep the pace. G. L. Mears ran excellently in the first 3 laps but failed to raise a sprint in the last quarter when two promising runners, Tipton and Hutchison passed and re-passed each other to a fine finish, the American boy Tipton winning by a yard with T. Madar third. Rose had an off day and could not produce his old form being out of training. David ran a remarkable last lap and only just missed getting in the first 3 home.

Branch Of Navy Y. M. C. A. Again To Care For Sailors At Chefoo This Summer

It is announced that the American Asiatic Fleet again will base for the summer this year at Chefoo. The Shanghai Navy Y.M.C.A. again will operate a branch Navy Y.M.C.A. in Chefoo as was done last summer. The need for work of this kind is as great as it has been heretofore. With a maximum of 2,500 men at Chefoo in 1921, there was an attendance at the building during this time of 32,550 or over 500 a day. When it is taken into consideration that many of the ships were out on the range for target practice for days at a time and only 50 percent of the men in port were allowed liberty at once, it will be seen that practically all the men on shore made the Y.M.C.A. their headquarters.

Here, they found a real "homeside" restaurant serving wholesome food at a cost to the sailors an average of 60 cents per meal. On the arrival of the fleet many Chinese merchants took advantage of the sailors by charging exhorbitant prices for their goods. In order to prevent the sailors from being imposed upon,a small canteen, or store, was opened by the "Y" which sold goods popular with the sailors practically at cost. That this was appreciated was shown by a volume of business amounting to over $13,000. A money exchange was operated in the building to protect the men against the abnormal rates changed by some of local exchange shops where $18,726.00 was handled.

A writing room with writing materials furnished free of charge was one of the features of the building and 4,600 letters were written and $830. worth of postage stamps were sold. There was also a library with 150 books. These were used 475 times. Hundreds of magazines were also furnished during this time and given to the ships when they left. One of the most popular features with the sailors was the victrola which was in constant use.

There were 428 entertainments with an attendance of 20,332. This included movies entertainments such as magicians, jugglers, theatrical troupes; concerts by ship and Chefoo talent, impersonators, etc. Beach picnics, swimming parties, dinner parties, candy pulls, band concerts, afternoon teas served by ladies, informal sings, Chinese dinners, sightseeing trips, hikes and boxing bouts also were provided.

Among the strictly religious activities there were 12 services held at the building with an attendance of 758 and 7 on ships with an attendance of 410. Also there were three vesper services held at Temple Hill where a picnic lunch was served after the service. There were about 100 at each of these.

The work was under the direction of Mr. Paul W. Brown, Executive Secretary of the Shanghai Navy "Y" who was assisted by Mr. W. G. Edgar of Peking and Mr. W. M. Cornwell of Chefoo and the following ladies who gave their vacation time to this worthy work.—The Misses Frances Taylor, Lina Willis, Hazel Shoub, Mildred Crane and Grace Maddox.

An advisory committee of Chefoo residents was organised and by their support and influence contributed in no small measure to the summer's work. The committee, which will serve again this year is as follows: Mr. Stuart Lupton, American Consul, Chairman; Mr. Cecil Kirke, British Consul; Mr. A. Sugden, Commissioner of Customs; Mr. V. R. Eckford and Mr. H. A. C. Emery of Cornabe, Eckford Co.; Mr. Scott Corbett, Manager Standard Oil Co.; Mr. Harold Smith, Corbett Academy; Mr. James Woo, Shantung Silk and Lace Co.; and Mr. S. D. Liu, Secretary Chinese Y.M.C.A. Mr. Brown of the Shanghai Navy "Y" again will have charge of the work and the following will aid in seeing that the Navy men are well cared for: Mr. Howard Miller, American School; Miss Frances Taylor of the American School; Miss Emma Gustafson of the Centenary Department, M. E. Mission Board; Miss Hilda Murray, Miss Harriet Rietveld, Miss Elenor Kitchen and Miss Marie Speidel of the National Committee Y.W.C.A. Miss Grace Maddox of Knowle's School, Kiukiang and Miss Mildred Crane of McTyeire School.

For most effective work this summer the need of books, magazines, phonograph records and all kinds of games cannot be over estimated. The many friends of the "Y" in Shanghai may have a part in making the program successful by contributing as suggested. Contributions should be sent to the Navy Y.M.C.A., 6 Avenue Edward VII or telephone C. 2005 and they will be called for.

Successful Passion Play Again Presented

Miss Madeleine Bigalke

MISS Madeleine Bigalke as Veronica, in the annual presentation of the Passion Play, "Veronica's Veil," at St. Joseph's Auditorium, in West Hoboken, N. J. The play achieved a success. The girl is seen holding the veil, which has on it the head of Christ.

If You Would Know What the Screen Can Do-See
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
IN ALEXANDRE DUMAS'
"THE THREE MUSKETEERS"
With nothing that has ever been done in the vast multitude of films given to the world, can you fairly compare this supreme picturization of a story that has made millions of men and women in every country on the face of the earth, laugh and sob with unforgettable emotion. And Douglas Fairbanks as the noble D'Artagnan has caught, with rare feeling, that indescribable "something" that enables him truly to live the part.

PROPOSAL

For the purchase of the U. S. S. POMPEY.

Sealed proposals will be received at the U. S. Naval Station Cavite, P. I., until 10 a.m. on the 12th day of June 1922, at which time and place they will be opened, for the purchase of the U. S. S. POMPEY.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE POMPEY

Built at Sunderland, England, in 1897, by S. P. Austin & Sons, Ltd. Structure: Material, steel, propulsion, screw; rig, schooner; tonnage 786 Suez Canal; mean draft 16' 10". Speed: 10.5 knots. Length over all: 245' 0". Length between perpendiculars: 234' 0". Breadth on load water line: 33' 6". Displacement: 3085 tons (estimated). Draft: Aft. full load: 15' 10". Bunker capacity: (42 c. ft. 1 ton) 205. Main engine: tripple expansion vertical. Boilers: 1 scotch marine: 4 furnace; 1 auxiliary vertical tubular boiler about 300 H.P. Electrically lighted throughout. Two (2) generators, capacity—about 40 K. W. Two (2) search lights.

Present condition: Excellent. Recently overhauled. Ready for immediate service and equipped with boats; radio outfit; spare propeller and tail shaft; outfit of blocks and lines; hawsers; ground tackle; cabin furniture; galley equipment ovens; refrigerators; navigational instruments; auxiliary machinery spare parts; canvas outfit; awnings; windsails; staysails; large assortment of hand tools, etc.

The sale will be for cash to the highest bidder, who must remove the vessel, at his own expense, from the limits of the Naval Station within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Captain of the Yard, Cavite.

Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope addressed to the Commandant, Naval Station, Cavite, P. I., endorsed "PROPOSAL FOR THE PURCHASE OF THE POMPEY": and each proposal must be accompanied by a cash deposit or a satisfactory certified check for the full amount of the bid, or by a bond equal to the full amount of the bid and an additional cash deposit or satisfactory certified check for not less than 10% of the bid.

Apply to the U. S. Navy Purchasing Officer, Shanghai, China, for forms of bid and bonds; additional information regarding the terms of sale, etc.

Apply to the Captain of the Yard, Cavite, at 9:00 a.m. of any day (except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays) prior to the sale to examine the POMPEY.

The right is reserved to withdraw the vessel from sale or to reject any or all bids.

Railroad Gets New Japanese Loan

(China Press Correspondence)

Nanchang, May 27.—Again the fate of the Nanchang-Kiukiang railroad is settled. A loan has been arranged with the Bank of Taiwan (Japanese) for $2,500,000 silver. Two million of this will go to pay off the mortgage, also held by the bank of Taiwan, and $500,000 is to be used to purchase new rolling stock, including two locomotives, and for the repair of the famous Tuchiapu bridge which has been on the point of collapse ever since the Japanese turned the road over to the Chinese nine years ago.

Governor Yang is seriously pushing the building of an auto road from Kiukiang to Kingtehchen, the porcelain center. The road would be eighty miles long and be a great incentive to the porcelain industry which is now dependent upon water transportation through mountain streams, into Boyang lake and thence to Kiukiang or Nanchang, Nanchang being the nearer.

Not the least disadvantage of the water route is the number of likin stations that must be passed. The governor proposes that the government provide part of the money for this road and that the balance be provided by people in Kingtehchen and Kiukiang.

Asia Banking Corporation

June 2, 1922

Spot and forward bar silver were each down ¼d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 71¾ cents, and the London-New York cross rate improved to 445⅞. The official Sterling rate today was dropped to 3-6½, the Gold Dollar rate to 79, the Yen rate raised to 60¾, and the other rates changed in proportion.

The market, during the course of the morning, was on the easy side, and at one time developed signs of weakness, business in Sterling being done as low as 3-6⅜ for June and 3-6¼ for July.

Gold Dollars were done at 78¾ for June and 78½ for July.

In the afternoon, the official Sterling quotation was dropped to 3-6, the Gold Dollar rate to 78, and the other rates changed in proportion. This change, however, made little difference in the market which closed steady, with sellers of Sterling at 3-6½ for June and 3-6⅜ for July-August.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at the close at 97 for June and 78¾ for July.

China sold a small amount of silver in London yesterday and India bought. The market closed steady.

New York report their market as dull, with nothing doing.

Singapore Rubber Auctions

Singapore, May 17, 1922

The downward trend of prices in the oversea markets has continued during the week under review. Prices to hand this morning are quoted at 7⅝d. in London and 14¾ cents in New York. The local market has also declined, but prices are still above the parity of both London and New York.

At our weekly auction today there was a general decline in all values, prices showing a drop of 1½ to 2 cents on the week.

There was, however, a fair average demand and all catalogues sold out quickly, probably due to "shorts" covering their requirements.

639 tons were offered and 461 tons sold.

Awarded Singapore Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet fetched 25½ cents, but the greater part of the lots was withdrawn, as sellers reduced their limits to 25 cents. One lot, however, changed hands at this figure, which marks a decline of 2 cents.

Sheet equal to Standard and Good Average Quality parcels sold to an interested market.

F. A. Q. Sheets found also ready buyers.

Two lots of Awarded Standard 1st Latex Crepe sold at 25½ and 26 cents.

Crepe equal to Standard was in good demand, the price having declined about 2 cents.

Off Color Latex was wanted.

Fine Brown, Dark and Darky Crepes declined on an average about 2 cents.

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, April 27.—While private brokers are offering more than 4,000,000 paper rubles to the dollar and food prices are soaring proportionaetly, the Government has announced a new issue of money in probably the largest denominations in the world.

The notes will be in 50,000,000 and 100,000,000 rubles and will be redeemable in 1924.

Plan Check On Russian Workmen

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, April 27.—Steps to reduce interference by workmen in the management of Russian industries are in preparation here. The newspapers announce that a decree is in the process of promulgation which will strictly limit the personnel of the workmen's committees and prevent them from holding meetings during working hours, except on in matters concerning Government business, unless there is agreement by the factory administrations.

Germany Not To Escape Payments

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 1.—The Reparations note which was recently despatched to Germany only agrees to the postponement of payment of a portion of Germany's obligations. The amounts of 50,000,000 gold marks due each month from May to October and then 60,000,000 gold marks each in November and December must still be paid.

Peru Contracts For New Railway

The Passing Of Old Europe

POLITICAL EUROPE in the old sense exists no more, except nominally, for the political man has "yielded the symbols of his office to the industrial man." So we are assured by the London Saturday Review, which says that the shifting of the balance of power is now to be observed, not between states, but within states, and that nothing is more remarkable than that the politician, whether at home or abroad, is finding that his political formularies are out of date. No one pays the slightest attention to them, according to this weekly, which tells us that as we leave the old political order in Europe we enter on the new—the era of "an economic Christendom." President Wilson is called the "last of the international politicians" and Mr. Lloyd George, the "last Prime Minister of England," for though the office of Prime Minister may be retained, it is without its old meaning and its old significance.

The sovereignty of England, centralised in a parliament at Westminster, has "silently but effectively passed away." Instead of "sovereignty," there are now "sovereignties," we read, and the great industrial corporations of employers and employed, the great professional organisations in England as in every European state, have obtained a status, which, if not recognised in constitutional law, is nevertheless effective. This weekly proceeds:

"In other connections we have noticed this. We have remarked how the executive of this realm has negotiated with Trade Unions, with the British Medical Association, with Federations of Employers, on a level of equality and respect. Parliament and the King's Government have recognised that they are no longer supreme. The phenomenon is not confined to these shores. In France, in Germany and America, the same symptoms of change are to be observed. The Peace Conference at Versailles found itself incapable of grappling with the problems it sought to settle. The men who composed it, influenced by the criteria of an epoch which no longer exists, thought politically.

"Despite the apparent humanity of many of the generalisations which they laid down and which they applied to the hitherto unrecognised nations of the earth, the vessels which they made broke in their hands. Again and again they assembled together in Herculean efforts to repair their work. It was of no avail. In city after city they gathered themselves together and discussed the outworn creed of politics. And now at Genoa—they discuss politics no more. Here is illustrated at once the importance of Genoa, and its unimportance. Its unimportance lies in this—that its members do not adequately realise that they belong to a generation which has passed away. Their minds cannot be adjusted to the new conditions of the world. Its importance, on the other hand, is that it marks, nevertheless, the last of three historical epochs."

We are then asked to recall how the states of Europe grew into being and developed. The Catholic Church inherited from the Roman Empire the idea of European unity, it is remarked, and the conception was already breaking up "when Luther appeared and lent, by the veriest accident, the weight of his religious protest against the domination of the Vatican, to the growing national consciousness." The birth of the nations from one point of view was merely a religious phenomenon, it is said, but the notion of unity was so overpowering that it influenced the philosophy of politics, and the oneness of the state grew out of the oneness of the church. We read then:

"The monarch of each nation inherited within his own borders the complete and unquestioned authority both of the Popes and of the Emperors of Christendom. What had taken place in Europe then began to work itself out in each separate nation. There was a protest against uniformity and the protest took on a spiritual shape. The claim for liberty of conscience and freedom of thought was a claim variously made by Protestants and Jesuits, by Puritans and by the Nonconformists of every school against rulers of a different faith from theirs. The various Churches were the precursors of the modern Trades Union asserting their claims to liberty and self-government against an all-comprehending central authority.

"Gradually there were eliminated from the province of the state matters which were considered to be not appropriately political. By the assertion of religious independence, freedom of thought, of conscience and of expression of opinion were gained as conquests from the central power. The whole life of the community ceased to express itself through the single channel of the state. Then the conquests were reduced to a political philosophy. A theory of politics began to work itself into reasoned expression, culminating in the principles of the French Revolution. By the eighteenth century the religious man had become the political man. The last hundred years have been years in which the political thinker has dominated Europe. His influence wanes. Genoa seeks to inaugurate an economic Christendom. It begins unhappily by imitating the errors of the two great eras which have preceded it."

In even a cursory survey of the two earlier epochs in the history above referred to, The Saturday Review notes one peculiarity common to both, and that is "how willingly men have died for phrases." Thus it reminds us that—

"The great councils which have endeavored to lay down the dogmas and propositions to which every good Christian should subscribe have immersed the world time and time again in dissensions and in blood. Of the early ecumenical councils we have inherited only the bare transcript of the resolutions. We must be aghast at their futility and their hollowness. Yet sanctions were established and machinery was improvised to enforce their general application. It was imagined in the early Middle Ages that peace on earth and good-will toward men would be established by the universal acceptance of a few generalisations. The idealists of the early Christian era assembled successively at Constantinople, at Ancyra, and at Antioch.

"They discussed for days and weeks at Ephesus and at Ferrara. At Constance, at Pisa, at Seleucia, at Nice, delegates from the whole Christian world deliberated on the canons which were to bring salvation to mankind. Each time it was thought that at last a prescription had been discovered for uniting the world and removing the causes of its differences. The revolutionaries of France fell into similar errors. It was for generalisation after generalisation that men fought and died. Again, after the Versailles Conference the same phenomenon is observable. Generalisations were like bombs which burst in the hands of those who did not understand them. Every single gathering of the nations since that time has been characterised by the same errors."

Make Your Own Radio Outfit

BY HENRY S. WILLIAMS

Interest in radio telephony has spread across the country in the past few months like an epidemic. Secretary Hoover, in addressing the Radio Conference called by him in Washington, stated that something like 600,000 families in America, according to the best estimates available, now have radio receiving outfits, as against perhaps 50,000 a year ago. He just characterized the amazing growth of interest in radio as one of the most extraordinary phenomena of our generation.

Reports from all over the country tell the same story. Everywhere there is an amazing interest in the mysterious but very tangible phenomena of radio telephony. Radio telegraphy of today is merely the development of an art that Marconi began to practise as long ago as 1897; and radio telephony is a procedure greatly improved as to details but not fundamentally changed in principle, that has been available for at least fifteen years—since 1907, when Dr. Lee DeForest invented the audion tube, commonly spoken of as "vacuum tube" that is the heart and soul of the modern radio apparatus.

Even broadcasting, which has now taken the world by storm, was successfully attempted by Dr. De Forest as long ago as 1909, when he established a temporary station on the roof of the Metropolitan Opera House and sent out, as the very first test, the voice of Enrico Caruso himself.

But the time was not ripe then; nor even seven years later, when Dr. De Forset sent broadcast through the air the "wireless" record of the returns of the Presidential election. There is a time element involved in the development of public interest in any phenomenon, however important. The incubation period past, radio has now invaded our household.

Broadcasting stations galore fill the air with news reports and weather reports and lectures and concerts, vocal and orchestral. Tens of thousands of New Yorkers and suburbanites listen nightly to entertaining and informative programs brought to their ears on the wings of the ether. Farmers in Kansas and in Iowa clamp on their ear pieces each evening or adjust the loud speaker and listen to concerts broadcasted from Chicago or St. Louis or to lectures from one of the State universities, and then set their watches by the time signal sent from Arlington, a thousand miles or more away.

Already the time has come when not to have a radio receiving telephone in your home is to be behind the times. The demand for radio equipment utterly outstrips the supply.

If you live in the metropolitan district, say within fifteen or twenty miles of one of the big broadcasting stations, you need not wait for the manufacturers of vacuum tubes. You can use a little fragment of crystal, that may be bought for a trifle at any radio-equipment store, as a substitute for the more elaborate mechanism. And if you have even moderate ingenuity you can put together a home-made apparatus in a few hours' time that will enable you to "listen-in" on the broadcast entertainment. Thousands of ingenious boys have done this, each one supplying himself with a really workable radio-receiving telephone at a total cost of from three to ten dollars; the major expense being for telephone ear pieces, aside from which the essential supplies to be purchased need not cost more than a dollar, all told. One New York boy recently gained a one hundred dollar prize offered by a scientific periodical, by constructing a successful radio receiver at a total cost, aside from the ear-'phones, of less than forty cents!

That might well be described as modern magic; but it is a kind of magic that everyone can practise. No one who has average ingenuity need lack for home entertainment, now that radio programs are as free and as pervasive as air.

Saving Complexions And Children

BY DR. CHARLES FLEISCHER

They were walking down the Avenue one extremely cold morning last Winter, comfortably bundled in fur coats.

Half a block ahead of them an old woman, shabbily and insufficiently clothed, shuffled along the fashionable thoroughfare, carrying a bag of laundry and looking curiously out of place, as if the cruel Winter wind had blown her out of her accustomed haunts into the heart of swelldom.

The young couple caught up with the elderly wayfarer. As they were passing her the fur-clad woman whisked a crisp bill out of her purse and into the trembling hand of the washwoman. They moved quickly forward; not so quickly, however, but that the man took in the picture.

The poor woman's eyes were agape with astonishment. First she looked to the heavens, from which the money seemed to have dropped into her hands, and she exclaimed an amazed "Oh, my God!" Then, as she realised that the younger woman was the immediate source of the unsought out welcome gift, she called blessings after the onmoving figure of her generous benefactor.

The writer was reminded of the pretty incident upon reading lately a wholesome diatribe indulged in by Evangeline Booth, national commander of the Salvation Army. It does a mere man good to have a sane and healthful woman chastise the members of her sex for their, to him, unaccountable silliness.

A man, of course, cannot understand "why they do it." He wants to take charitably for granted that the flauntily, tauntingly exhibited feminine foibles cover a multitude of saintly and sensible qualities.

So he is glad to have a woman—who, of course, knows her own sex—discourse publicly upon these same foibles. Hear, therefore, what the evangelical Miss Booth says.

She asserts that women who powder their noses, touch up their hair with a bit of golden glint or add the bloom of youth to their cheeks are positively dishonest. Women use "makeup" to deceive, said Miss Booth.

"A woman has no right to fool the world," she added. "The woman with blazing cheeks, indigo eyes and carroty hair is a cheat."

Mere man would opine that she fools no one but herself. And herself but little!

Miss Booth insists that the enormous sale of cosmetics in the United States is a disgrace to the country. And then she says further:

"If our young women would only take the money they use for paint and powder and buy milk for the poor, starving babies of the world they wouldn't need any artifice to make themselves attractive.

"In their cheeks would be the hue of joy that comes from the heart, and in their eyes the light that comes from giving service to the world."

The writer will not soon forget the lovely light that glinted in the eyes of his companion that wintry morning when she obeyed the impulse which brought double blessing; one to help a needy person; the other and greater, of spiritual exaltation in the happy giver.

One recalls, with deep satisfaction, the sacrifices and self-deprivations of the women of the world during the late war.

A little powder now and then we would still allow them—if they will promise us never, no never, to put it on in pubic.

How beautiful it would be if, duly, all women would devote the staggering millions now wasted on harmful cosmetics to a world-wide Baby Saving Campaign!

With this money hundreds of thousands of children might be saved!

If you cruelly think that there are enough crying children in the world, please realise how devoutly-to-be-wished a consummation it would be at least to save the complexions of our ladies, and to be able again to look into the belladonnaless eyes of beautiful woman!

Nobody Understands Me

BY THE SPECTATOR

It was charged in the case of the butler of the Rolling Rock Club of Pittsburgh, who got into trouble with the members, that he frequently showed signs of derangement. One of these signs was that he paraded the club grounds attired only in his underwear. When asked for an explanation he said:

"I have a soul nobody understands."

Whether the buttling gentleman said this or not, a good many other people have said it, and are saying it.

And among the proofs of insanity in the case of any man or woman this ranks ace high.

For the human being whom no one understands a good remedy up till ten years of age is a course of sprouts, after that a dose of salts.

If you are convinced that you have a soul that nobody can quite figure out, you are quite justified in thinking that you are a trifle cracked.

It is quite generally acknowledged that Jesus Christ was a great and superior person. He spoke very deep truths and had a right, if any man did, to consider Himself as peculiar. And yet it was said of Him that: "The common people heard Him gladly."

Another great thinker, perhaps the greatest of all thinkers, was a man by the name of Socrates, who lived a long while ago in Athens. And Socrates loved to drop in at the harnessmaker's and was listened to attentively by slaves.

As a matter of fact, most of our isolation is due to our weakness, not our strength.

A great teacher was once asked by a pupil to explain a certain matter. His reply was "I have not time. You see I do not understand it very well, so it would take me an hour to explain it. If I knew it perfectly I could explain it in five minutes." It is not our depth of thought that is the cause of people misunderstanding us, it is our obscurity and confusion of thought.

A real teacher could explain Kant's Categorical Imperative to a washwoman.

The best teacher is the one who holds the attention and lightens the mind and stimulates the soul of the most ignorant of his congregation. If his talk is so learned and involved that only a few get what he is driving at, it is not because he is such a profound thinker, but simply that he is a bum preacher.

The best lawyer is not the one who keeps blazing away over the heads of the jury, but the one who talks level with them, in their own language, and makes them see every point he brings out.

The best poet is not the one who staggers around loaded with involved sentences and obsolete words, but the one who speaks in simple language and makes it glow.

The best editorial writer is not the one that shatters the reader's mind with statistics and hypnotises him with platitudes, but the one who says in sharp, terse and understandable language precisely what he wants to say.

If you think you are not understood, don't say so. Conceal it and find out what your real trouble is.

As well might a stomach say that it can find no food, or the lungs say they can get no air, or the eye say that it is not adapted to light, as for the soul or mind of a human being to say, "Nobody understands me."

What we call sanity is no more nor less than morale. And what we call morale is no more nor less than adjustment. And the man that is not adjusted and has not somehow found his place in the world of his fellows and has nothing to offer which they want is quite certainly by way of being a bit crazy.

Take your bearings. Sit at the feet of the world. It's an old world and very wise. Listen to the common teaching of humanity. Take down your flag of egotism.

For after all this world understands each of us perhaps better than we understand ourselves.

The Week's Market Report

In their weekly report on the Shanghai piece-goods trade, Messrs. Noel, Murray and Company write as follow:

Cotton.—The New York market was a little easier yesterday at 21.20 cents for Spot, 20.65 July, 20.25 October, 20.04 December, 19.81 January and 19.64 cents for March. Violent storms early in May were chiefly the cause of the rise in cotton prices to 21.60 cents, and a lot of cotton areas had to be replanted. This was succeeded by the discouraging outlook at the Genoa Conference table, but happily this phase passed away quickly and a feeling of greater confidence was established. Messrs. A. Norden & Co. point out that the conjunction of another small or moderate cotton crop, with a world trade boom that may be seen before many months have flown might cause an advance in cotton to very high prices and the feeling that such a conjunction is more than a possibility was at the back of a good deal of the buying that took place early last month and these friends felt that higher prices would be seen. Private sources place the May crop "condition" at 68%. In Liverpool yesterday Spot Good Middlings stood at 12.02d., 23 points higher than last week. July cotton was quoted 11.99d. and October 11.68. Bengals were rather easier at 8.70d. but Egyptians are up to 19d. Indian prices are higher again at Rs. 380, Rs. 449 and Rs. 526 July-Aug. for F. G. Bengals, Fine Oomras and F. G. Broach respectively.

Home Market.—Manchester is steadier as regards prices. The wages question is settled and the agreed-to "scale" shows a reduction of one hundred from the highest point reached during war time. Indian orders are being placed in larger numbers and China has also given a fair amount of support to the market.

Local Market.—Now that the Dragon Boat Festival has been duly celebrated and money is easier, it is expected that a brisker state of affairs will be seen.

Szechuen and the Yangtsze Valley provinces have fine crops to harvest and will be in a position financially to buy new clothes, of which they must be sadly in need. The war zone has been shifted further to the north and east and some of the Northern centers of supply and Korea are making inquiries, so it is hoped that next week we shall be able to report a brighter market than we have seen for some time past. There have been no auction sales this week. A goodly quantity of Japanese cloths are being marketed and there are also more frequent arrivals of American goods. It is noticeable that there is a lot of leeway to be made up in White Shirtings, if imports of that article are to come up to those of pre-war days.

Yarn.—This product has made a good start in spite of the holidays and sales of 17,550 bales plus 12,000 bales for retailing, have been made. Of Indian sorts no sales have been reported.

ROSENFELD REPORT

In their weekly cotton market report, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton:—The cotton market has had a distinctly quiet appearance throughout the whole of the past week, due to the Dragon Festival Holiday. Prices are nearly the same as those of last week.

Extracts of Correspondence

Tungchow, May 28.—Planting progresses favorably. A large proportion of the crop is above ground and the stems are good.

Shanghai and Districts, May 31. The general rains that prevailed during the past few days have proved very beneficial. Planting is nearly completed.

Chekiang Province, May 29.—The conditions in this section are steadily improving. We have had good sunshine weather for the last 48 hours.

Yangtsze Valley, May 29.—We have had good general rains along the Valley. The season so far as it relates to this vicinity is an ideal one for the preparation of the land and from our standpoint of view it should give ground to believe that a good crop will be made.

Chihli and Shantung Provinces, May 27.—Rains all over the country, and favorable prospects of new crop are expected.

Shensi Province:—No report to hand.

Yarn: There was a better feeling in yarn circles during the first part of the week, due to the lull in the political squabble up North. Some 13,000 bales of new business with mills have been reported and some 17,000 bales export business has been booked. At the close, the market showed steadiness owing to the steady purchases made by dealers.

SPUNT AND COMPANY

In the weekly cotton market report, Messrs. J. Spunt and Company States:

China Cotton:—Notwithstanding the absence of any active demand prices ruled steady to firm throughout the past week which, by the way, may be said to have been a short one owing to the Dragon Festival having intervened. The steadiness in Mid-American, the rising tendency in Indians and the present statistical position of the cotton world tend to encourage the strength of local values of the staple in spite of the continued depression in our yarn market which it is hoped will soon assume a more animated phase, at which time spinners will be in a better position to avail themselves of any breaks which may temporarily set in during the course of the growth of the new season crop and, in any case, having in view the unfavorable reports that are continually emanating from the U. S. A. as to the new crop situation, it appears to be advisable to contract to a certain extent, at this time, for distant deliveries and in such manner avoid any pressure of taking in supplies later at higher rates. Tone of the market, Firm.

PONGEE SILK

The China Merchants Pongee Association Chefoo office under date of May 27 reports as follows:

30 and 50 yard pieces (Ninghai Qualities Ref. Nos 3 and 5) were in demand and sales of a few pieces were reported during the week.

Stocks being very light prices are steady to firm as consequences.

Shantungs are also firm and holders of stocks are requiring higher prices. Stocks are limited.

Important: Silks Ref. No. 2 and 3 are slightly heavier in weight than the 14 momme (machine made) Japanese Pongee, but far superior in quality. Mention of this is made to enable buyers abroad to compare prices.

Note: Prices are First Costs for fair average quality, "First Pick."

HAIRNET

The hairnet industry is undergoing a very grave crisis. In our recent reports the declines in the prices of hairnets were recorded also conditions that brought about the present abnormal situation.

A peculiar feature in the present situation is the fact that prices of Single nets which have a smaller consumption and consequently are not in great demand are steadier today and appreciation in same is looked forward with confidence, while prices of Double nets which are in demand in American and have a larger consumption are still declining.

This peculiar phenomenon is easily explained by the fact that during Febuary certain parties by their wild operations in their attempt to corner the market for double nets have made the makers form the idea that unlimited quantities of double nets would be required in America during this year and consequently they have all commenced to make double nets instead of making both Singles and Doubles in the proportion required by the Trade.

As a consequence the market is now suffering from an overproduction of Double nets and with the slackening of the demand in America present conditions were unavoidable.

Dealers of hairnets are now offering their stocks at $1.00 to $2.00 below the actual cost of the nets and it is feared that the consequences of the present crisis on the industry will be very grave.

HANKOW MARKET

The British Chamber of Commerce at Hankow write as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, May 24:

Finance

Bar silver rose from 36⅜ d. ready, 36¼d. forward on 17th instant, to 37d. ready and forward on 19th, dropped to 36d. ready and forward on 20th instant, rose to 37⅜d. ready and forward on 23rd and receded to 36⅞d. ready and forward on 24th. New York-London cross rate has been steady all the week at 445. T. T. rose from 3-7½d. on 17th to 3-8½d. on 22nd and remained at that point though business at 3-9d. was done. The market is easier today with no sellers over 3-8d. 4 m-s have been placed from 3-10¼d. down to 3-9¾d. with probable buyers today at 3-9⅝d. Markets rates: Shanghai Taels—There has been a good demand and business has been done from 97.7. up to 97.825. Local currency $ have remained steady at about 70.575. Native interest rose from 8 to 12 percent but was easier today at 10 percent.

Exports

During the week under review a fair amount of inquiry from Europe came through, chiefly for beans and peas, and a little business was done. High exchange rates, however, still render business very difficult. Wood oil seemed dull both in Europe and America. There was some demand for hides and bristles at slightly under local current values.

Imports

Piece Goods:—After the active demand of the last two or three weeks, business has slackened somewhat, presumably owing to dealers having filled their requirements for the Autumn. It is reported that orders placed amount to approximately six lakhs. Inquiry for stock cargo is limited and clearances are small.

Yarn:—The market is dull and clearances poor.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Save the Babies.
INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!
We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.
The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria
Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market." J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere." J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood." CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result." F. OSWALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble." C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.
"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children." J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

"Quality Sells, because it Tells"

Yes, there is no doubt about that, and we have recognised it from the first, making "quality" our principal aim. Nothing will do us but the best, irrespective of expense. No amount of advertising, pushing, etc., will help us, if the quality of our products is not of the best, it would simply mean so much money wasted. And in nothing is "quality more telling with the public than with the articles they consume, such as Aerated beverages. Our reward has been the enormously increased demand for our

and their general popularity. If you have not tried them, you have not tried the best.

Rise Of The Mark Boosts Trade Hopes

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 1.—The recovery of the mark to 1,202 as compared with the highest rate of 1,480 in March, coupled with the general improvement in industrial shares, is inspiring hopes of mending trade.

Prices exhibit a tendency to become firm, while food continues downwards, but the fall is slackening in commodities, notably textiles, which seemed to have turned the corner but are now slightly rising.

Experts anticipate an all-round stabilisation, with the cost of living somewhere in the region of the present level.

Poison Found For Boll Weevil Pest

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 31.—Addressing the Manchester Fine Cotton Spinners Association, Mr. H. W. Lee announced that a subsidiary company in America was confident that it had found means for checkmating boll weevil by poisoning.

Six hundred bales had been raised from 900 acres treated with poison, whereas practically no cotton had been gathered in a similar area which was not treated.

Falling Off In Marine Pilferage

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 1.—The greater care exercised by merchants in packing and forwarding goods has led to a steady decline in marine thefts and pilferage which were rampant two years ago. As a result the 75 percent Theft Agreement, then introduced by insurance companies whereby merchants were compelled to bear the balance of 25 percent of their claims, is being abolished, the companies taking the full 100 percent risk.

U. S. Trade With China Stationary

(China Press Service)

Washington, June 1.—The Department of Commerce reported that April exports to Europe increased and imports decreased when compared with April of last year. Last April exports were $180,000,000 as compared with $175,000,000 for the same month last year. Imports were $66,000,000 as against $69,000,000.

Exports to China during April were the same as last year, being $9,000,000 but imports have decreased from $11,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Exports to Japan amounted to $14,000,000 last April as compared with $12,000,000 and imports were $19,000,000 compared with $14,000,000.

Horse, 51 Years Old, To Be Exhibited

(Reuter's Service)

Catawissa, Pa., April 24.—Clover, said to be the oldest living horse in the United States, is to be exhibited at the fashion and beauty bazaar to be held in Madison Square Garden. His owner, Dr. U. Myers, says Clover is 51 years old and this statement is borne out by prominent veterinary surgeons who recently examined the famous old animal.

The horse was bred in Kentucky and has been owned by Dr. Myers for thirty-five years. Many persons and organisations have offered to provide a home for Clover for the remainder of his days, but Dr. Myers refuses to part with him.

Explorers Return With Rare Finds

(Reuter's Service)

Panama, May 5.—The British explorers Mitchell Hedges and Major Fitz-William have just returned from a trip into the San Blas and Chucunaque River country, the first white men, it is said, to succeed in penetrating that section of the Isthmian jungles.

They brought back with them a larger collection of Indian idols and primitive weapons, also pieces of cloth woven by the natives. These objects are said to resemble in many ways those produced by the ancient Egyptians.

Peaceful Days Again In Bruges

WITH the coming of peaceful times once more to the sleepy little town of Bruges, Belgium, housewives and other inhabitants have returned to their old habits and customs. Here we see some of the good old ladies of the place buying fruit and vegetables at a stall in the open market. Bruges certainly had a remarkable escape from serious damage during the war, an escape in keeping with the old tradition which maintains that no harm can befall the town as long as its very sacred relics are there to protect it.

OPIUM TRADE IS THRIVING IN ANHUI, REPORT

Large Areas Of Poppy Being Harvested Near Luchow

(China Press Correspondence)

Chaohsien, May 30.—This part of Anhui Province is doing a flourishing trade in the production and sale of opium. Never before in the recent history of the district has there been such a corrupt administration as that of the present incumbent in his city. The sale and use of opium is publicy known, but nothing is done to stop it.

In the region nearer Luchow, large areas of poppy now are being harvested. It is such a bountiful crop that the price of opium has dropped to 60 cents an ounce. This poppy planting is a good source of revenue to the officials and they do nothing to stop it.

With opium growing, naturally come other forms of corruption as the poor of this city are finding out to their sorrow. Although this is one of the heaviest rice producing centers and large quantities of last year's yield are still in storage, and even in the face of a bounteous promise for the new crop, rice continues to soar in price.

It is now being held at $10 a picul by the profiteers despite the desperate straits of the people who cannot pay such prices and have anything left. They must cut down their daily ration of food which means that they go hungry part time at least. Appeals to the officials to fix a reasonable price for rice have proved of no avail.

KOO SEES ERA OF RECONSTRUCTION IN NEAR FUTURE

Powerful Factors Working For Unification, He Says

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, May 29.—"There is little cause for pessimism in the present political situation," said Dr. Wellington Koo, when interviewed today at the house of Dr. Wang Chung-hui. "The clouds that were hovering over China a few months ago have been dispersed, and the whole political atmosphere is clearer than it was. It is true that every development in the political situation brings the ultimate solution of the problem closer, and there is no reason to look upon China today with discouragement.

"Moreover the entire country is in a frame of mind to bring about a united China. The constructive elements in all parts of the country are nearer together than they have been in a long time; in fact, they are much closer together than they themselves have any idea. The situation, between the North and the South, and also between the East and the West, for the split is vertical now rather than horizontal, is also clearer than it has been in the past. In spite of the fighting that is going on along the Kiangsi border, there is no cause for worry in that field.

"It has been seven years since my departure from China, and during that time there have been great changes in my country. Most marked of all changes however, is the change in the power of public opinion. It is more organised and more powerful than it was when I went away; it crystalises more clearly and more rapidly than it did before. The other great change that I have found is in the business and commercial worlds. In Shanghai alone are many educated young men who have pushed their way to the fore, and are bringing into play the western education that they have received. There are more than two hundred of these young men, and they are already taking positions of leadership. One hundred and fifty of them are American educated.

"As I have said before, and I do not see any reason for changing my position, Dr. W. W. Yen has carried the portfolio of Minister of Foreign Affairs with such signal success, that it would not be in the interests of the country at this difficult time to have the position turned over to another."

New Wage Cut For Miners In Britain

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 1.—The Joint Wages Board of Lancashire and Cheshire has decided that miners' wages shall be reduced during June by a further 10 points, the lowest level which may be reached under the existing agreement. Some 100,000 miners will be affected.
